

Junk needed for war effort

Salvage committee renews drive for tin cans and junk

The war machine in this country will soon slow down unless six million more tons of scrap junk comes out of hiding. The old scrap about the home and the farm is made of refined steel which can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce the highest quality steel for our war machines.

The local Salvage committee in an announcement in this issue asks the householder to go into his attic, the cellar, the garages and the tool shed and sort out the junk that means so much to our country at this time.

Open junk depot

A junk depot has been opened by the Arlington Heights salvage committee on the Northwest highway, just west of the Geo. C. Poole garage, where any person can drive in and leave his load of junk.

Mrs. Herbert Taylor has been appointed secretary of the committee and will receive phone calls from those who have collected the junk, but have no way of getting it to the municipal junk yard.

The facilities of the junk yard are open to residents of adjoining communities. When the material is sorted and sold, the receipts will go to defense purposes.

Every kind of junk (not rubbish) is welcome, except tin cans, which should be stored in the home in a dry place, awaiting the collector's call.

Tax collection Program is on

The township collectors opened their offices this week for the collection of the second installment of the 1941 real estate tax.

The collector's offices will be open for about three weeks, but not up until the September 1st dead line as the country town collectors must have all of their postings made before that time.

So taxpayers should make their payments as early as possible.

The town collectors as a service to their public will also accept any first installments and personal property tax bills plus the 4 per cent penalty for payment to the county collector.

All taxpayers are urged to cooperate with the local taxing bodies and local collectors by making their payments as early as possible.

Narrow escape from death as train hits auto

Arthur Drechsel receives only minor injuries

Arthur Drechsel, wire chief of the Arlington Heights office of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., had a narrow escape from death Tuesday morning when his car was hit in its center by train No. 613 from Chicago at the State road railway crossing, Arlington Heights.

The gates had not been lowered. Joseph Dominik, gateman, 16 So. Dunton told the police, "I had a signal for a south bound train and had put the gates down at the Evergreen street crossing. I was going to pump down the gates at the State Road crossing, but the train was already there and the car had been hit."

The car with Drechsel in the driver's seat was carried by the locomotive to Evergreen st., where he was removed and taken by ambulance to Northwest hospital, Des Plaines. Apparently the only injuries received by Arthur were bruises. There were no concussions or broken bones. X-rays have not yet been taken.

Mr. Drechsel had taken his daughter, Alice, to the southbound train. As the latter train was pulling out she witnessed the accident but had to wait until her train reached Mt. Prospect before she could return to Arlington to learn the fate of her father.

Mr. Drechsel was fully conscious following the accident and directed his own rescue. The injured man has been with the telephone company several years and has a number of children beside his wife.

Pvt. Robert Goedke tells of army life

In a recent letter to his family Pvt. Robert Goedke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goedke, of Company E 15th Signal Service Regiment at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, tells of the rigors of life in the army. He tells of "clean-up" day when after six hours of school and a half mile walk to the exercise grounds, the soldiers are put through a half hour's calisthenics.

Then comes two hours work in cleaning the barracks and parade. However he adds, "I like this life though, and I'm not kidding."

Pvt. Goedke goes on to say that he believes every high school graduate should have at least one year of compulsory military training. As our war preparations get into full swing, the authorities are clamping down on the boys in the army and making them work harder, but still complaints are practically negligible.

Palatine-Barrington Lions play ball Tuesday night

The ball game between the Barrington and Palatine Lions clubs at Barrington a week or so ago didn't turn out so hot for the Palatine boys as they only were able to get part of a team on the field and took a beating from their Barrington brothers.

But next Tuesday night at the high school field the boys expect to get even.

On their home grounds and with a complete line up, they expect to even the series and make a championship game necessary, which game, if it ever comes to pass, ought to be played on a neutral diamond, say Recreation Park, Arlington Heights.

Donations to fire siren lag

Donations to the new fire sirens are few — so few that no names are being published this week. The Herald wishes it could tip off its readers as to the identity of the first person to send in two dollars. They came from the proprietor of the smallest business house in Arlington. Any profit that comes his way are fractions from candy and popcorn nickle or dime sales. The second contribution came from an elderly woman resident.

Auto wrecked by train; driver escapes

Arthur Drechsel, Arlington Heights, was the driver of the above car when it was struck Tuesday morning by a Northwestern train. The car is wrecked. The driver expects to be on his job next week.

Parachutists descend in Sherwood

Extra! Jap parachutists land in Sherwood! (or maybe they were Germans, the residents aren't quite sure). At any rate when Jim Wood, the local air raid warden, opened his sealed orders during the mobilization practice on Tuesday evening, they read, "Several parachutists have landed in the yard. Call the Center and ask for a rifle squad."

Everyone could see just where they had landed for weren't the fourth and fifth rows of the corn patch matted down? Well, the rifle squad arrived in the person of a Mr. Patrick who immediately reported to the Civilian Defense headquarters that everything was under control. The 'chutists were taken away with nary a murmur or their parts and the children went around slanting their eyes and saying "very sorry, Droopie bombs."

All of this may seem like the residents are taking a serious situation too lightly, but nevertheless the orders were carried out quickly and efficiently, with duty made a pleasure.

In addition to the "parachutists" several "casualties" were reported, picked up by the Drivers' Corps and taken to the first aid station at the Presbyterian church and the field house. According to Mrs. Eleanor Grant, executive assistant of the local office of Civilian Defense, the Drivers' Corps functioned particularly efficiently. When "incendiary bombs" were dropped, a bomb squad rushed to the scene and took care of unexploded bombs and roped off certain areas. In the case of "fires" a representative of the fire department arrived on the scene and remained until it was under control. In most areas the air raid wardens functioned promptly and were fully cooperative.

Any person in your building who will volunteer for this service should report to designated headquarters at once in order that proper instructions can be given.

Alderman Kehe says, 'no news'

The village board meeting Monday night was so uneventful that Alderman Kehe tells the reporter, "we did not do a thing." At the suggestion of the reporter, "no work, no pay," the alderman said, "Oh we did a few things but if you can get a news story out of minutes you are a good reporter."

After reading the minutes thru twice the reporter was ready to throw up his hands, but remembering "no work really meant no pay to a reporter," so here it is:

During July no building permits were issued except for one garage, $350 and one alteration $400, total $750.

Water department had pumped 20,000,000 gallons of water during the month while the treatment plant handled 22,599,000 gallons. That's a gain of over two million.

There have been only four cases of contagious disease, one of mumps and three of whooping cough.

Fifteen police fines netted the village $71.

Sales of $7,500 tax warrants was authorized.

Receipts of the month were $6,375.

The novelty of bike tags have worn off and few are being sold. No alderman suggested that arrests be started.

That's all. Hope the reporter earned his pay check. The aldermen have no worry that way. They write their own.

Arlington people roll-in the records; drive ends Saturday

Arlington Heights households have rolled in over 4,000 old phonograph records the past ten days. The response to the phone calls and the news stories has been so great that the local committee is extending the drive until Saturday. Records in store windows tell where they can be left.

The committee hopes to pass the 5,000 mark by Saturday. If you are unable to personally deliver the records at one of the collection depots, call either 604 or 325-W, and they will be called for.

Continual blackout in Hawaii

Herbert Reinshagen has received a letter from Major Arnold Ahnfeldt, stationed in Hawaii that may be particularly interesting to readers who remember the story of the arrival of his wife, Mrs. Ahnfeldt in this country March 11, as an evacuee. There is a continual blackout every night there. The letter received by the Reinshagens says in part:

"Hawaii is a very busy place, as you can well imagine, and we're not letting up for one minute. Civilian life here is also on a war time footing. Everyone carries a gas mask with them wherever they go, including the children.

"Homes are all blacked out at night from the outside so that streets are pitch dark then. Vehicular traffic is reduced to authorized individuals and their cars have the headlights painted black with a small spot of blue in the center to leave a faint ray of light thru.

"Air raid shelters abound wherever you go. However, we have become accustomed to these changes in our mode of living so they seem quite natural now. I am kept very busy and that's the way I like to have it since I have to be separated from Lynn and Diane."

Local towns to be completely blackout

Air raid wardens have authority to enforce ordinances

The blackout alarm will start at 9:54 by the continual sounding of the alarm for two minutes. It will be quiet for two minutes. At 9:58 the alarm will again sound two minutes. By ten o'clock all lights must be out.

At request of Gen. Geo. Grunert, commanding officer of 6th area, Col. B. B. Freud, regional director of the 6th civilian defense region has issued orders for a blackout which will plunge the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin into darkness from 10 to 10:30 p. m. Wednesday, August 12. Efforts have been made to obtain almost uniform regulations, but in some cases it will be more practical for local ordinances to be in effect. This will be the most extensive blackout over attempted in the interior of the United States. A warning has been issued to would be sight seekers not to congregate in any of Chicago Loop districts or in the downtown districts of any city or village.

General rules which should be made familiar to all citizens are as follows:

Extinguish all lights in your home. If you have a black-out room go to it.

Do not admit any strangers. If you are a pedestrian, take refuge in the nearest door way or any other protected place.

If you are driving, curb your car immediately and put out the lights. If you are on a country road pull off the road entirely if possible. If not get as far off the road as possible and leave only parking lights on.

Busses, street cars, etc., must proceed to the nearest intersection and turn off lights. Passengers remain in their seats.

Street lights will be extinguished by city electricians. Provisions should be made for first aid, fire extinguishing facilities, emergency lighting and battery equipped radios.

This black-out will cover approximately 50,000 square miles of territory and involve millions of people.

Fines for non-compliance to blackout orders

It is inconceivable that any resident would fail to cooperate in the trial blackout next Wednesday or with the mobilization test which occurred at stated intervals in Arlington Heights. However, for the benefit of any possible doubting "Thomases" their attention is called to the local ordinance which provides stiff fines for the willful non-compliance on the part of any person. The ordinance reads in part:

Blackouts, when ordered by the military and naval forces are essential to the preservation of life and property in this municipality and it is imperative that this municipality aid the armed forces by all possible co-operation and assistance.

Failure to comply with orders, rules and regulations governing evacuations, traffic movements, congregation of persons in streets, and other public places may result in confusion and unnecessary loss of life during blackouts and during air raids.

During a blackout or air raid the police or the special police are authorized and directed to enter upon any premises within this Village and extinguish lights or take other necessary action to make effective any order, rule or regulation adopted under the authority conferred by this ordinance.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or any order, rule or regulation issued pursuant thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200.00), or imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both said fine and said imprisonment.

Thanks

Merle Guild Post No. 208, The American Legion, wishes to express our thanks to the many citizens of Arlington Heights who so generously contributed phonograph records during our recent drive for "records for fighting men." Also our thanks to the Camp Fire Girls, the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary and other volunteer workers for their very fine telephone canvass of the village.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, Aug. 2.
The Golden Text was, "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you" (11 Cor. 13:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd" (John 10:14, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good." (p. 494).

U. S. telephones
top Axis number
seven times

The United States has seven times as many telephones for every 100 people as the Axis powers. America's six largest cities contain all told more telephones than Germany and Austria combined. The State of Illinois, for example, has 1,954,199 telephones while all of Japan has only 1,367,958. Texas alone has more telephones than Italy.

These comparisons come from a survey of the latest available world telephone statistics recently completed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The three Axis powers and their pre-war dominions, this survey shows, average only 2.34 telephones for every 100 inhabitants, whereas on January 1, 1941, this country had 16.56 telephones for every 100 people.

Using estimates in the case of those countries for which no recent official data are available due to the war, a world total of 44,189,669 telephones is indicated as of January 1, 1941. At the present time it is likely that over 46 million telephones are in service, with more than one-half of the world's telephones being in the United States and about one-third in Europe. The net gain in the number of telephones in the world during 1940 was more than one and a half million, of which 1,100,000 was accounted for by the United States. During the year 1941, the net telephone gain in the United States alone was 1,593,000 bringing this nation's total to 21,928,182 at the beginning of 1941 to 23,521,000 at the end of that year.

Telephones operated by private companies account for more than 60 per cent of the world's total. Close to 58 per cent of all the telephones in the world are now operated from automatic central offices, including some 12 million "dial" telephones in the United States.
Outside the United States, the largest telephone systems in the world—ranked according to size—are to be found in Germany, Great Britain, France, Canada, Japan, and Russia, each of which have at least one million telephones. When the population of the respective countries is taken into consideration, the leadership of the United States in point of telephone development is even more striking. On January 1, 1941, the ratio of 16.56 telephones for every 100 of the population in this country was followed by 14.26 for Sweden, 13.96 for New Zealand and 12.78 for Canada. The relative telephone density in the major countries of Europe—7.00 telephones per 100 population in Great Britain, 5.28 in Germany and 3.86 in France—is considerably below that prevailing in small towns and rural districts in this country.

Recurrent attacks of migraine headache indicate a highly organized, sensitive, restless person who above all needs to learn self control and discipline and how to take life calmly and naturally.
Treatment by a physician is imperative for both relief and for prevention of recurring attacks. Each person has his or her own individual make-up to consider which the doctor must study and treat in an individual manner.

The expert attention of the physician must be followed by the skilled work of a trained pharmacist. His proficiency and knowledge are priceless protection for your health.

South church
pastor observes
5th anniversary

An unusually large summer congregation was present Sunday morning, Aug. 2, at the South Church in recognition of the fifth anniversary of the coming of the pastor to take up his duties in Mount Prospect.

Rev. Edwin Ira Stevens came to his work here directly from Rochester, N. Y., where he had been graduated from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. The South church at that time had been organized only six months and had sixty-five members. Since Mr. Stevens work began, the church has erected its building, expanded its membership to a present total of 215, and put into operation a varied and effective program of Christian activities.

Mr. Stevens begins his sixth year of preaching here with a series of talks on the general theme, "The Christian's Strength." The series includes four talks the first of which will be delivered on Sunday, August 9. The titles are: "Strength Thru Understanding Ourselves," "Strength Thru Purposeful Living," "Strength Thru Communion with God," "Strength Thru Broadening Vision."

JUNK
needed for War

"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the attics and cellars of homes, in garages, tool sheds, and on farms, is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Old radiators, lengths of pipe, refrigerators, garbage pails, broken garden tools...

It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel, with most impurities removed—and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

Even in peacetime our Nation relied on scrap to provide about 50% of the raw material for steel. Now production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined.

But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns, and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead, and tin.

America needs your active assistance in rounding up these materials. The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?
First—collect all your waste material and pile it up.
Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.
Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

Palatine adds 14 new firemen

At a meeting of the Palatine civilian defense council held Monday evening, it was agreed to increase the number of volunteer firemen to a total of 14. Eight new members have already been added and an additional six will be enrolled in the near future. These new members will be required to take the defense course for auxiliary firemen and all work dealing with incendiary bombs, gas defense, etc.

The police department, under the supervision of Chief Charles Volz and Wm. Maier, have also increased the number of auxiliary policemen to 8. These men will also receive special training and a part of their duties will be during the blackout which will soon take place. Under those conditions they are able to protect property, prevent looting under cover of darkness and to prevent sabotage.

An raid wardens will be around to check blackout efficiency and to be helpful to those who may be experiencing difficulties. The Palatine police department has been driving around with an extra flourish this past week. If you haven't noticed just look at the tires. Four brand new ones, with the full consent and blessing of the rationing board, too!

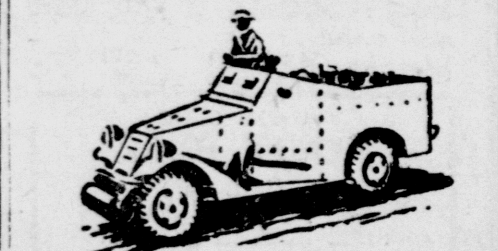

Cocker Spaniels to cavort at Hinsdale show

The Cocker Spaniel Club of the middle west will hold a Sanctioned Puppy match at the Suburban club, Hinsdale (Ogden ave., Route 34, 1 mile west of Hinsdale) on Sunday, August 9, at 2 p. m. All cocker spaniel puppies under one year of age are eligible for competition and entries may be made at the show.

Admission to the match is free. Ample parking facilities. Mr. William E. Wanderlich, well-known licensed judge and breeder, of Muncie, Indiana, will judge. Beautiful trophies will be awarded, with a $25 War Bond for best puppy in show.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $5,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans to the War Bond Quota in your county.

Scout camp in final period

The final period of the camping season for Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta summer training camp, on July 28 at the Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scouts of America closes this Sunday. The camp is filled to capacity this week and a number of special features are being carried out which includes an all day and evening game of Commandos.

In the games played so far this week the Commandos seemed to have the advantage of those defending the camp and the places representing the radio station, power plant and water works have been captured.

Star Scout Richard Candler of Troop 2 Park Ridge, was chosen as alternate honor camper for the sixth period.

The Scouts who are in camp for the final period include Donald Heidorn of Troop 7, Arlington Heights.

Helen Swick, Palatine resident for 70 years, dies

Many Palatine friends were saddened at the news of the death of Mrs. Helen Swick which occurred at her home Sunday evening. Mrs. Swick had suffered a serious stroke June 17, and another July 28, since which time she has been failing rapidly.

Helen Adelaide McCabe was born in Janesville, Wisconsin, April 13, 1866, the daughter of James and Helen McCabe. She moved to Palatine with her family when she was six years of age and spent her lifetime in this village. Her marriage to John Swick took place October 11, 1900, and to this union two children were born, Helen and Lee, both of Palatine. Besides her children, Mrs. Swick leaves two brothers, James of Chicago and Robert of Palatine, two other brothers preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Palatine board of education, district 15, several terms and served as its secretary. She was an active member of the Order of the Eastern Star of which she was secretary and of the Palatine Woman's club. Her keen interest in civic affairs and her spirit of cooperativeness will be greatly missed by her many friends who mourn her passing. It is interesting to note, too, that Mrs. Swick lived all of her life in the original family homestead.

Funeral services were held at the Tharp Funeral Home, Wednesday, at 2:30 o'clock. The services were under the supervision of the Eastern Star and the Rev. Theodore Potter. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

SHOULD HOUSE PAINTING BE POSTPONED FOR THE DURATION?

The answer is easy. The answer is NO.

If your house needs painting, by all means have it painted. At once. Protection of property is vital.

In the emergency requires that homes be painted with greater care than ever before. Select your painter and your painter wisely. Every extra year of service a high-quality paint can give means a saving of both material and man-power.

Youths leave for outing, sent home 'riding the rods'

A camping trip that started out to be a lark, but ended up rather sadly is the experience of three East Maine young men, Wallace Poehls, Richard Geweke and Gordon McLennan.

Equipped with full camping regalia they gaily set forth on Monday, July 27, for a week in the open, their destination Fox Lake. Everything seemed to go all right until, because of the hot weather, they decided to spend the night sleeping in a park.

There they were picked up by an officer of the law who convinced them they had better terminate their trip, packed them on a freight train and sent them back home Wednesday evening, considerably the wiser for their brief camping experience.

Mrs. Jack Greenhaugh of the McLennan subdivision, came home from the Evanston hospital July 31 and is successfully recuperating from her recent major operation.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Sladek, Davis st. in the Heinz subdivision, on July 28 at the Evanston hospital. She has been named Lorraine. The three other Sladek children, two sons and one daughter, are eagerly waiting for their mother to bring their new sister home from the hospital some time this week.

Jimmie Bestmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bestmann of Ballard rd., celebrated his seventh birthday Sunday with a group of relatives and friends on hand for the happy occasion. Both of his grandmothers, grandmother Bestmann and Grandma Jaacks were able to be present for the party.

Until recently grain sorghums could be grown only where there was a frost-free season of at least 160 days, a mean July temperature of at least 75 degrees and an average minimum rainfall of 17 inches. Plant breeders have, however, developed new varieties that can be grown with seasons as short as 130 days, mean July temperature of 70 degrees and minimum precipitation of 15 inches.

Little Prestige
The Supreme Court of the United States, for 2½ years after it was established in February, 1790, did not have an opportunity to try a single case. Almost two decades later, the court still had so little prestige that it once held its sessions in a tavern while a room was prepared for it in the basement of the Capitol.

Here's the dope on that sugar

To all you folks who have been wondering what has happened to your supplemental sugar applications and who have had of sugar to go to waste for lack of sugar to can it, here's the answer.

We have learned from authoritative sources that the district rationing board in their all-wise wisdom have been comparing the original rationing applications with the supplemental applications and have evidently come to the conclusion that some people were asking far more sugar than they needed.

Now just why and how a rationing board can determine what a housewife wants to can or how much she should can is a mystery but anyhow that's the reason your folks haven't been getting your sugar.

Now, if you think you've got a lick coming, write to that rationing board whose headquarters is at Barrington and tell them you need the sugar, that you weren't bluffing and that you want to know what's happened to your application.

And don't stop by writing once; write every other day if you don't hear from them.

We asked our informant why not go in person and make our complaints and we were told that they didn't want people to come in person.

After such a ball-up as has happened we don't wonder that that board doesn't want to face the enraged public.

But write and tell 'em what you think anyway if they don't want to see you.

One thing we can't see in this whole sugar mess is why, if they weren't going to hand out any more rationing sugar, did they have a supplementary registration for it.

But then the ways of some agencies are devious and mysterious to the average ordinary mortal.

Lutherans and Catholics tie; to play next week

In what was scheduled as the last game of the season last Thursday night, the Catholics and the Methodists played an 8-inning game to a 4-4 tie. Darkness prevented continuing the game to a decision so the same teams played off the tie Tuesday evening and the Catholics came off winners by a score of 4-1. This win gave them a first place tie for the League championship with the Lutheran team.

The Lutherans and the Catholics will play off the tie next Thursday evening, August 13th, thereby determining the first and second place winners. This should be a very exciting and interesting game as both teams will be "shootin' the works" for a win. Standings as of the close of the season are:

Lutherans	6	3
Catholics	6	3
Methodists	4	5
Salems	2	7

Al Tudyman in Honolulu

The family of Al Tudyman has received word from him that he has arrived safely in Honolulu. He was unable to say just how he got there but judging from the lack of time that elapsed the family can hazard a pretty good guess. Al was certainly enthusiastic about the country down there and just to prove that it's a small world after all he met a former classmate of Palatine high school days, Miss Leona Sathoff who is a nurse in the service and is also stationed at Honolulu.

Rudy Hajek leaves country

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hajek received a telephone call from their son, Rudy, last week which was actually to say "good-bye" for a while. He told the home folks that all of his equipment was aboard ship and that he was expecting to embark for parts unknown almost immediately.

The family is naturally anxiously waiting the next word from which will tell his whereabouts.

Blood volunteers pass 100 mark need more

The Red Cross announced last week that a new quota of 2,500,000 pints of blood has been requested by the army and navy. It is hoped that the new appeal will be answered so that 50,000 donations per week may be made at more than a score of donor centers throughout the United States. Palatine had established a goal of 100 but in view of the new appeal registrants will be accepted up until the final date allotted us.

The response this week has been one to make us all very proud. The total last night had reached 104 71 and then your reporter was handed another list. This came from Inverness County, May we digress just a moment to tell you that this community is made up of 38 families at the present time. Several of the Inverness residents had already registered as blood donors. This last list contained 24 names of Inverness residents who are willing to give their blood for their country. Inverness has volunteered 100 per cent.

One cannot help but comment on the excellent work done by Mrs. Stanley Pepper, chairman of the Palatine volunteer committee for civilian defense. She personally contacted almost every family and the overwhelming response has been one with which to point with pride. We doff our bonnet to Inverness Country.

New names on this week's list are: Bridget Healy, Daniel Healy, Bride Healy, Thomas Healy, Delia Kreuger, Kenneth LaPointe, August LaPointe, Mrs. Anna Merfeld, Anton Hajek, Mrs. Dean Smith, Mrs. Nettie Thomas, A. Hummel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buckley, Mr. C. Sammerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spottwood, Jean, Hicks.

Mrs. Elbert Horlacher, Mrs. Arthur Traber, Dr. and Mrs. C. Peterson W. Thompson, B. Caldwell Larry Sommerville, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn Axling, Tony Ciccone, Mrs. Beverly Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Hicks, Bernard Wittman, Andrew Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, Harry Ford, Bob Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nygaard, William Engelhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fogarty, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beaumont and daughter and Mrs. Grace Pepper.

The need is still with us and grows greater every day. If you have not already registered please do so at once by calling Palatine 4 or 170 at your earliest convenience.

Why not send our cannon off to war?

It has been noted that the old decorative cannons strewn throughout the towns and cities of the country are all being donated to the war drive for materials with which to make new and modern weapons. Reposing on the village green here in Palatine, is just such a piece. Why not offer it to the salvage committee or to the proper authorities for recasting? Wonder what an old cannon thinks about? For years now it has enjoyed the peace for which it fought and again it would gladly go into action to preserve and protect that peace. Let's send our cannon, boys, and with it our personal "regards" to the Japs.

Canning Passes the Century Mark
Commercial canning of foods in America started in 1819, but it was not until about 1840 that the tin container was widely used to replace glass.

Ration board hopes for tires, has few retreads

The new tire situation for both passenger cars and trucks remains critical. The board has many applications for both new passenger tires for pick-up truck tires and truck tires, for the larger types of trucks, which, due to the smallness of our quota, this board is unable to act upon in spite of the fact that the persons qualify.

The Office of Price Administration has increased, somewhat, our quota of retreads and War Price and Rationing board 16-2 strongly urges that all those persons who would ordinarily qualify for new tires apply for retreads while their tires are still in a condition to be retreaded.

Sugar
We wish to remind the people that stamp number 6 and 7 are good for two pounds of sugar until August 22.

Those filing second applications for sugar for canning are having their certificates forwarded as quickly as our small clerical force can complete them. It is hoped that additional clerical help will be granted to this Board by the Office of Price Administration in the near future.

The registration in both Palatine, Barrington and Bartlett for sugar for canning will continue at the village hall in Palatine 2 to 4 on Tuesdays, in the general store in Bartlett 2 to 4 on Tuesdays and in the high school in Barrington from 2 to 4 on Wednesdays.

Applications for the purchase of bicycles are available at this office, and may be acquired either by calling personally or by writing to this board.

At the present time the regulations do not provide for the issuance of certificates to school children or house wives.

Quits job to aid householders with electric problems

Ken LaPointe who is an experienced electrician, had so many calls from his neighbors for electrical repairs that he quit his job in Chicago and is now devoting his entire time to repair work. He is specializing on radios, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric motors and every kind of household appliance.

Mr. LaPointe's phone number is Palatine 499-R-1. If you forget the number, look in the Enterprise every week. His card appears on page two. For the benefit of those who are employed in Chicago he keeps his shop open evenings and on Sundays. The place is half mile west of Quentinn road on Dundee road.

The Pedersen car struck the rear end of the Stoeckel car, which turned over on the west curb. Arthur Stoeckel, 10 years old and Joanne Stoeckel were taken to the Palatine hospital for the treatment of cuts and bruises. Grace Daniels, riding in the Pedersen car received slight injuries.

Glenn Pasvogel marries Jeane Ray of Des Plaines

St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Park Ridge was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Glenn Pasvogel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pasvogel of Arlington Heights, and Miss Jeane Ray of Des Plaines. At three o'clock the Rev. Walter Spengler performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a pink suit and had a corsage of lavender and white baby mums. Her maid of honor and only attendant was her cousin, Miss Arlene Mortenson of Park Ridge, who wore a blue and white suit and a corsage of salmon colored gladioli. The groom chose his best man his brother, Harold. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Anna Mortenson, wore a sheer dress, and the groom's mother wore a navy polka dot dress. The wedding, a small one, was attended only by family and close friends. After the ceremony a chicken dinner was served at the Pasvogel home by Mrs. Albert Deering of Park Ridge. She is an aunt of the groom. At five o'clock a reception was held for 25 people.

The groom is employed by his father in the Pasvogel Greenhouse. The Pasvogel family moved to Arlington Heights three years ago to take over this green house. The young couple are temporarily living with the groom's parents until his status with the army is certain.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and their son, Chucky, returned from a two weeks vacation.

Mrs. W. H. Gribble and her two children returned Thursday from a two weeks vacation visiting relatives in Huntington, W. V.

Gone are the specials, jockeys and southerners

The racing season is over. To the people of Arlington Heights this statement means a multitude of things. Temporary residents have moved away — taking with them their children, dogs, and cars bearing licenses from such places as California, New York, Florida, and Kentucky.

Women meeting their husbands on the 5:50 no longer have to battle a seemingly unending line of cars in order to cross Euclid ave. or Northwest Highway. The police force can go back to cruising the streets instead of regulating the stop lights by hand.

Twelve-car racing specials have ceased to thunder along at racing hours and have stopped disrupting schedules — and commuters' trains have their usual equipment once again. The State Police can return to their job of forcing obedience of the forty mile speed limit instead of concentrating their forces on Northwest Highway.

No more do we see such colorful characters as jockeys and trainers in the "Big Freeze," and no more does shopping mean everlasting standing in line at the cashier's counter. The "racing crowd" isn't here to stand around on the corner of Davis and Dunton to wait for scratch sheets.

Many of our residents can take a well-deserved rest from long hours working at the track — in the total labor department, as cashiers, and the many boys who worked to clean up the park each day.

In short the town can go back to its calm, peaceful, and pleasant, existence and breathe a sigh of relief while saying "Excitement may be fun, but thank goodness it comes once a year."

Children sell lemonade to buy war stamps

The two children of Arlington Heights who have been selling lemonade on the corner of Vail and Campbell sts., are Sarah Price, aged fourteen, and Ginger Forrest, who is eight years old. The children sell lemonade every warm day during the week and so far have made three dollars and fourteen cents.

War bonds are to be bought with all the profits, and already plans are being made for "ten years from now." Eight year old Ginger is planning to use her money for college since she hopes to go to two years to a small school and finish up at Northwestern.

Tuesday afternoon they had no sooner set up their stand when two men approached them from the Arlington Jockey club and said that the water was polluted up there and they'd like to buy the entire stock of 2 gallons. Right then and there the girls made a dollar and a half.

As for sugar in the lemonade, Mrs. Forrest, chief concocter, used saccharine which sweetens just as well and isn't rationed.

Anybody want any lemonade? — three cents or one cent a glass.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Miss Ardelle Wood was at the A.L.A. meeting and gave a detailed report of the day to day program at Girls' State in a pleasing, natural, manner. An interview by the society editor upon her return was published in the July 10 issue of the Herald and covered her report fully. Every one was pleased with her vivid account and regretted her leaving before meeting the members personally.

The Tuesday meeting was the last before the Department of Illinois convention to be held in Peoria August 22, 23, and 24. Finishing the annual reports and paying all our outstanding bills cleared the way for starting another year's work. The rehabilitation chairman, May Wisersky, is planning an afternoon card party for September 17 to raise funds for hospital work.

The activities chairman, Fannie May, proposed a rummage sale for September 25, proceeds to be used in Auxiliary activities. One hundred dollars was voted to be given the Legion post to apply on the next payment on the Legion building. Mrs. Joe Wisersky, Mrs. Paul Carroll, and Mrs. J. W. Peroutka will attend the Cook County Council meeting on Friday.

After adjournment the hostesses, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Carroll, served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes returned last Saturday from their vacation at Devil's Lake State Park, Baraboo, Wis. Mr. Hughes spent the last two weeks there, but the rest of the family were there for five weeks. Also with the Hughes' at Baraboo, were their niece, Miss Olive Smith of Matteson and nephew, Dickie Rehner of Hillsboro.

Elmer Behrens, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Behrens of Arlington Heights, was married Saturday to Miss Eleanor Undeutsch, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Undeutsch of Chicago. The wedding took place at four-thirty o'clock in the parsonage of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church with the Rev. Freeman A. Kunz officiating.

Only the parents of the bride and groom attended the wedding. Ralph Behrens served his brother as best man, and the bride's only attendant was a close friend, Miss Lorraine Christensen, who served as her bridesmaid. The bride wore a street length dress of blue taffeta and a corsage of white roses.

The newlyweds left Monday morning for a short wedding trip to Devils Lake, Wis. When they return they will live at the home of the groom's parents until he is called into service.

Elmer Behrens was born in Elmhurst, Wis., but has lived in Arlington Heights for the past 22 years. Until recently he has been employed at the Arlington Farms. The bride is employed in a radio plant.

Lt. Edward Mills is transferred to Bangor, Me.

Lt. Edward L. Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills, former captain of the Michigan State College cross country team and one time captain of the lifeguards at the Arlington Heights swimming pool, has recently been transferred from Mitchell Field, Long Island, to the flying field near Bangor, Maine.

Lt. Mills received his basic military training at Michigan State College and received his commission early in June of this year at which time he was transferred from the cavalry to the chemical warfare division and sent to Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, for his specialized training. Here he was assigned to the air corps division and sent to Mitchell Field.

On August 1 he was assigned to the flying field near Bangor, where he is base chemical officer. Mrs. Mills and their fourteen months old daughter, Patty, accompanied him from Long Island to Bangor where they will take up residence.

Lt. Mills, in a recent letter to his parents, requests that word be passed along that those boys of yours need letters from home and lots of them. He says if you could see the disappointed face of your boy when mail comes in with no letter for him and all the other fellows getting letters, you would sit down and write him a good long newsy letter and let everything else wait.

Quilt winner

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scharringhausen of 9 S. Dunton ave. are the lucky winners of the quilt given by Mrs. Barrie Runge at the home of Mrs. Frank Runge. Mrs. Runge wishes to thank all who contributed to this event and announces that the proceeds have been turned over to Mr. Herbert Hammer, treasurer of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church fund.

The committee also thanks Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scharringhausen for their kind and generous donation.

Mt. Prospect man retires after 36 years of service

After nearly 36 years' active service with Commonwealth Edison company, Arthur M. Lloyd, 500 Sha Boney trail, Mount Prospect, retired on a pension August 1. Friends and associates of the youthful appearing veteran held a farewell luncheon in his honor at the Union League club Thursday and presented him with a handsome table lamp.

Entering the employ of the Chicago utility in 1905 as a wireman's helper, Art Lloyd became a wiring and lighting fixture salesman in the following year, but left the company in 1911 to accept a traveling sales position with the Central Illinois Public Service company at Mattoon. He returned to the Edison sales department in 1912.

Mr. Lloyd was sent to Schenectady, New York, in 1916 to participate in an industrial heating campaign sponsored by the General Electric company and he subsequently became an industrial heating engineer in the power sales department. Sale of commercial electric cooking and water heating equipment was later placed under his supervision and in 1937 when the Edison company launched its domestic electric range campaign in Chicago, he became supervisor of the newly formed range installation bureau. Since 1939 he has been supervisor of commercial cooking sales.

Prominent in the activities of the Chicago Restaurant Purveyors association for many years, Mr. Lloyd has just tendered his resignation as director of that organization. He was also the first chairman of the National Electric Light association commercial cooking committee in 1924 and held that post five years. Art has been a member of the North Shore lodge, A. F. & A. M., for over 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd moved to their beautiful new Mount Prospect residence about a year ago from Crystal Lake. Of distinctive Connecticut farmhouse design, the home — appropriately enough for an electric utility man — boasts an all-electric kitchen.

News of Prospect Heights

OCB picnic this Sunday

The OCB council of Prospect Heights regretted that it was necessary to cancel the proposed picnic of last Sunday, but due to the inclemency of the weather it was deemed advisable for all concerned. Needless to say few would have ventured forth to the damp grounds with their families even though the rain stopped shortly before the picnic was to have started. That the picnic be socially and financially successful, the picnic was postponed until this coming Sunday, August 9th when it will be held at the Prospect Heights school grounds from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m. Prizes for the drawings are on display at the local headquarters. Many games, novelties and demonstrations have been planned. Dancing to the music of the local band, "The Prospectors Two" will be in the school basement. Games and races with awards for the children are on schedule. Plenty of refreshments, nominally priced will be prepared for your convenience. The county police will demonstrate the uses of the squad car, first aid demonstration by our local Girl and Boy Scouts, and the OCB signaling system will also be demonstrated.

The OCB members will meet the Prospect Heights Lions, in a very heated game of soft ball. (This should be good; have you seen them practicing?) The lineup of the OCB:

Twenty or thirty more volunteers are needed for an hour each to assist the staff in the operation of games and refreshment stands. Will you offer an hour of your time? Men call R. Hartke, 7084-M, C. arler, 7085-W or R. Hartke, 7084-M, or get in touch with Mrs. K. Dailstream. Come out to the picnic for a grand time, bring your friends; they'll enjoy it, too. Be seeing you Sunday. Keep your fingers crossed for good weather.

We regret to announce the passing of Mrs. Wm. Schekko, of Chicago, and our sympathies go out to Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Robertson, Sr. Mrs. Schekko was Mrs. Robertson's mother. She was laid to rest on Wednesday of this week.

Captain Alvin Ayers, of Camp McCoy, visited his family over the week-end. Hard to say who enjoyed the visit most, the children, mother or dad.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Duetsch, Sr., and daughter and son-in-law were guests at the John Duetsch home Sunday. Grandma Duetsch stayed on for a few days visit with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fitzgibbons were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dailstream.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ledyard and daughter, Charlene and her playmate, Lorraine Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Larson, have been vacationing at Pickere Lake, in Wisconsin, this week.

Mr. A. Lohr is enjoying his vacation putting about at home.

Car pool plan to be tried at Prospect Heights

Civilian Defense are pushing the "Share your car plan" and it is the opinion of the local OCB that the Prospect Heights can and should do the same, if it wishes to keep its cars in condition for a longer period of time. Those who cannot make use of bus transportation due to their working hours or location of places of employment, may find that they have some neighbor whose hours or place of employment is close enough to share cars. This particularly applies to those who commute to and from the North Western station.

Similar arrangements could be made by residents who make shopping trips weekly to and from the city or need transportation to and from church, if a questionnaire were filled out by members in the household.

The OCB have designed such a system which is working out to mutual advantage in many communities and it can work in Prospect Heights. Below is a questionnaire which when filled out and mailed to Prospect Heights OCB headquarters or given to the local zone warden, or block captain, will be checked to see if there is anyone else who would be willing to share their car who may have the same hours. After the staff has discovered how many such cases can be worked out, applicants will be notified so that mutual arrangements can be decided between interested persons. Fill out this questionnaire as soon as possible.

Mrs. E. Moore and son, Don, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dailstream Monday evening and stayed on the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stearns of Antioch, visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Galbraith on Sunday. Little Sandy Galbraith returned to Antioch for a week's visit with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Allord and family visited Mrs. Allord's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Pinter at Milwaukee, on Sunday.

Miss Jayne Payne of Elmhurst rd., has just returned from her vacation, having visited Dayton, Cincinnati, and points of interest in Kentucky.

Our sympathies are with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buerher. Mr. Buerher's father passed away at his home in Wausau, Ohio, on the 24th, after a long illness.

Mallard Inn dies of old age

Another of East Maine's once famous landmarks has been torn down, the old Mallard Inn at the corner of Ballard rd. and Milwaukee ave.

Originally on the site of the Inn was a little country store which became a farm home where Mr. and Mrs. John Jaacks made their first home after their marriage in 1888. A succession of other tenants followed until the property was purchased by the late William Wichman.

Enlarging and remodeling were done and a store and saloon resulted until the prohibition era closed the latter. It continued to be known as Wichmann's Corner until Frank Hall took over renaming the place the Mallard Inn. Some years ago, however, Mr. Hall moved his business to the present Mallard Inn at Dempster and Milwaukee and the building has been vacant most of the time since, until it was finally condemned and destroyed.

Plan theme for Holy Name rally at Soldier's field

Chicagoand Catholics from Cook and DuPage counties this week were informed of the theme of the Holy Name Holy Hour to be held in Soldier Field, Sept. 13.

The Most Rev. Archbishop Samuel A. Strich, spiritual director of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name societies, announced that all Catholics attending the Holy Hour are to pray for "peace in justice and charity through the victory of our nation."

In proclaiming the theme of the giant religious spectacle, Archbishop Strich said:

"We are engaged in a war to preserve the things which were granted to us in the gospel of Christ. We are eager to accord all men justice and charity which are so much a part of our lives. Yet, we are eager, earnest and intent upon securing victory and lasting peace. For this end, we now ask all Catholics in the Chicago archdiocese to pray."

Holy Hour officials believe that this year the event will attract greater attendance than the 1941 demonstration, when more than 175,000 persons jammed Soldier Field.

Park Ridge youth bags Jap plane

All Park Ridge rejoiced Tuesday with Mrs. Mildred Pascoe, 23 South Prospect st., over the news that her son, Lt. Ted Pascoe, 28 years old had bagged a Japanese Zero plane while flying from an advanced Australian base. It happened on Monday and the event was Mrs. Pascoe's best birthday present.

Ted is a bombardier in what his pilot calls the "grandest bomber crew in the whole air force" and survived a 45-minute running fight with 15 enemy planes on Monday. Enlisted in 1940.

He graduated from Maine Township high school and attended Carleton college where he was a swimmer and track man. He enlisted in September, 1940. His brother, Merrill, 29, is a yeoman in the navy.

Tall, dark, slim Pascoe bagged the second of the three Jap planes. The American ship came home with five cannon shell holes, 62 shrapnel holes and innumerable bullet holes. Three of the crew were wounded but none seriously, according to a United Press dispatch from Australia.

"It was the teamwork of the grandest crew in the whole air force that did it," said Capt. Maurice Horgan, the pilot, of his ship's success in the encounter. "We've flown together a long time and had lots of scraps together. We've got so used to each other that we can tell by the grunts what the other men are thinking."

Glider pilots half through first course; new class Sept. 1

Ten "Yankee Doodle Dandies," members of the first class under the new Army Civilian Pilot Training Program, this week complete the first half of an eight week preliminary course at Elmhurst College. Progress they have made has opened up a possibility that the quota for the next class opening on Sept. 1 will be enlarged, perhaps to 20.

More than 20 applications are already in for the second session. Those who cannot be accommodated will be given priorities on future classes, opening each eight weeks. Men currently enrolled will be transferred for advance training in September.

To avoid delay in the opening of the next session, C.P.T. applications are being received from men 18 to 36 years of age now at Elmhurst College, coordinator Tiedemann said. Both the college and the airport are prepared to handle at least twice the present quota, pending Army orders on the exact size of the class.

Trainees under the new quota in September will learn flight principles and elementary military discipline and drill on the Elmhurst campus. Flight instruction at the Rollins Aviation Company will be in light power planes similar in operation to the gliders in which these men hope eventually to serve their country.

Central Y offers special courses

To aid students who wish to speed up their college courses in order to enter war service, Central YMCA College, 19 South La Salle street, will conduct a supplementary summer session from August 24 to September 11, following the regular summer term, Dr. Edward J. Sparling, president, announced today.

Classes in the special session will meet five days a week from 9 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. The work will be highly intensive and will enable students to earn three hours of college credit in one subject.

A supplementary summer session will also be conducted by the Central YMCA College High Schools, beginning August 17, and ending September 19, with classes meeting six days a week from 8:45 a. m. to 5:20 p. m. Secretarial as well as high school subjects will be offered.

SUE FOR $25,000

Carl and Eleanor Faerber have sued Raymond Peterson for $25,000 damages each for injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Skokie January 1. The suit is in circuit court.

They allege that Peterson was driving on Ridge road at Crawford avenue and they were backing on to Ridge road from a parking place when hit by Peterson's car and injured.

Workers for shipyards needed

There is an immediate and urgent need for hull inspectors, outfitting inspectors, machinery inspectors, electrical inspectors and joinery inspectors in the U. S. Maritime Commission, according to an announcement issued today by the U. S. Civil Service commission.

Vacancies now exist in ship building centers in the area surrounding the Great Lakes. These positions pay salaries ranging from $2,900 to $3,800 per annum.

Men with shipbuilding experience or who have served as ship's officers on sea going or great lakes vessels are needed particularly, but men with considerable varied and responsible experience in allied fields may be qualified. College education in marine engineering, mechanical engineering or electrical engineering, in naval architecture or architecture may be substituted for some of the experience requirements.

Complete information and the proper application blanks may be obtained from the local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board of examiners located in each first and second class post office or from the seventh U. S. Civil Service district office, recruiting section, Room 1107, New Post Office building, Chicago, Ill.

Qualified persons are urged to make immediate application with the Seventh U. S. Civil Service district office, recruiting section, Room 1107, new post office building, Chicago, Ill.

11-month auto tags now ready

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, stated today that he desired to correct an impression some taxpayers have that they will be unable to purchase automobile use tax stamps at post offices after July 31st.

The only auto use tax stamps that will not be available at post offices are the $5.00 stamps for the full fiscal year beginning July 1st. These must be purchased at the collector's office.

Stamps for the 11-month period for taxpayers who have purchased or started using automobiles in the month of August may be purchased at all post offices. These 11-month stamps will sell for $4.59.

Boy scout training saves boy's life

Scout knowledge probably saved the life of 12 year old George Crowcroft of Des Plaines one day last week when his clothes caught fire.

George had been examining a small cup of gasoline when it exploded. The youth rolled over and over on the ground until the blaze was smothered.

Burns were suffered, however, and the boy is resting in an Evans hospital.

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

Wars are won by attacking, not by sitting in a fort!

And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard-fighting, non-stopable men and materials!

We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high.

You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay day. Attack the Axis with your dollars today.

You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $13.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency. U. S. Treasury Department

Maine high school chooses new principal

The board of Maine high school last week announced the appointment of Frank Holmes of McCook, Nebraska as principal for the coming year.

After sifting through scores of applications, cutting to ten and then three, Mr. Frank was then chosen. Frank immediately accepted. The new principal is a graduate of Kansas University, later receiving his master's at Northwestern.

"Without being an apple polisher, I can honestly say that this community is an attractive one," was Mr. Frank's opinion of Maine.

May inspect bomb room at Northwestern

Guided tours of Northwestern university's new $6,735,000 Technological Institute will be open to the public every Saturday at 10:00 a. m. and 11:00 a. m., it was announced today by Dean Ovid W. Eshbach.

All except a few laboratories in which highly confidential government research is being conducted will be viewed on the tours which take about an hour. Some of the features of the building covered by the tour are the one million pound transverse universal testing machine, the five million pound hydraulic press, the 1,500,000 volt "lightning" generator, the "bomb room" with twelve inch walls to guard against explosions from experimentation, and the "world's quietest room," a 50-ton room within a room with walls of concrete six inches thick and lined with 18 layers of muslin insulation.

The Technological Institute was established by Walter P. Murphy, inventor and manufacturer of railroad equipment, on March 21, 1939. The building has been in use since September, 1941, and was dedicated in June, 1942.

P. L. Z. & W. rises from the dead

The old P.L.Z. and W. railroad last week rose from the dead when announcement of the contract to purchase former railroad property for purpose of a Lake Zurich playground was made.

The real estate, formerly the right of way of the main and only branch of the Palatine, Lake Zurich and Wauconda railroad, lies south of rte. 22 and east of the old Rand rd.

The Lake Zurich Lions intend to raise enough money to pay back taxes and make the necessary improvements, in addition to installation of the playground equipment.

Army accepts toothless men

Selective Service registrants who are classified for limited service, except those with hernias and positive serological reports, are now being accepted for military service, it was announced by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois Director of Selective Service.

Limited service men who are being inducted now, the State Director added, includes not only those classified in 1-B and 1-B-0 (conscientious objectors to combat duty) but also those men who previously have been rejected at the Army examination or induction station because of bad teeth. A One-B selectee may now be accepted by the Army even though he has no teeth, provided no disease exists in the mouth.

Three hurt when Northfield, Morton Grove cars crash

Three persons were injured about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning when Jack Endicott, Northfield, and August Schubert, Morton Grove, collided at the junction of Ballard road and Greenwood avenue, east of Des Plaines.

Endicott was driving south on Greenwood and struck Schubert, who was eastbound on Ballard. The Schubert auto turned over twice, ending on its side.

Mrs. August Schubert, Mrs. Amanda Schubert and Fred Kiewert of Des Plaines, all passengers in the Schubert auto, all suffered cuts and abrasions.

SUE FOR $5,000 FOR BAD LIGHTS

Michael and May Barnett have sued Stanley Slonina in Circuit court for damages for injuries sustained in a collision of automobiles on Route 58 near Algonquin road Dec. 17, last year. They were riding in their car at night when they allege Slonina in a truck was backing across the road without showing proper lights thus causing them to run their car into his truck and be injured.

May asks $5,000 damages and Michael $1,500.

$20,000 SUIT FOR 53, 62 COLLISION

A suit for a total of $20,000 damages has been started by Mary and Michael Marchese, minors, and Antonio Marchese against Louis Genter and Nellis Hewes on account of an automobile accident they were in May 11, last year, on route 62 near Palatine.

It is alleged the defendants were on route 62 and the Marchese car on 53. They ran into the Marchese car at the intersection. Mary asks $10,000 damages and Michael and Antonio $5,000 each.

ONE-TWO-THREE-FOUR-FIVE-SUGGESTIONS

...to help you make better use of your NEW Telephone Directory

WE TRY to make your telephone directory accurate and complete. These five suggestions, if followed, will increase its usefulness.

- 1 Be sure to discard your OLD telephone directory if it was not collected when the new one was delivered. (Don't destroy it—turn it over with other waste paper to your regular collector.)
- 2 If you have a memo list of numbers called frequently, verify these numbers now by looking in your NEW directory.
- 3 Always consult the directory when not sure of the number.

Calling from memory is a common cause of wrong numbers.

- 4 Look in your directory—don't ask "Information" for numbers listed there. This avoids making two calls instead of one.
- 5 Use the "Classified" section (yellow pages in most directories) to locate wanted products, services or professional help—especially important now that substitutes must be found.

How to arrange food in your Refrigerator

Pin this helpful reminder near your refrigerator

Different kinds of foods require different degrees of temperature and humidity. All you need do is put the food in the right places as indicated above.

Not all foods need be kept in your refrigerator, but probably more than you have been placing there. For example, bread will stay fresh days longer if kept in the refrigerator (lower section). Shelled nuts and chocolate keep better, too. Bananas should never be put in the refrigerator. And such items as mayonnaise, catsup, pickles and olives need not take up this valuable space.

To properly store and keep perishable vegetables, wash and skin off all surplus material before placing them in the crisper.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:
We're in a whirl down here at Shady Rest. . . . I surprised us by arriving last Sunday for a week's visit. . . . there hasn't been a dull moment since. . . . Jeane, Mate, Uncle Walt, Elizabeth, Benny and Bobby were here for dinner when she arrived. . . . this made, if not a quiet and dignified reception, an enthusiastic one. . . . Davey and Louis were excited enough having their cousins. . . . Benny and Bobby to play with but when her aunt Charlie came they fairly bubbled over. . . . there was bedlam for a while. . . . everybody talking and laughing, the boys running in and out from the yard slamming the doors. . . . but then, I think you know what family parties are. . . .

Monday it was so hot we did nothing but sit around and talk. . . . Dave came home early. . . . afraid he'd miss a trick. . . . Tuesday, Charlie and I took Davey up to Evanston. . . . spending the day in Evanston is a MUST when Charlie comes to our house. . . . she loves the place. . . . she says there is something about it that appeals to her more than any other town she knows. . . . that it has an atmosphere peculiarly its own. . . . you and I have always felt this same way about it, but we've lived in or near it all our lives. . . . it's in to find some one from the outside feels this way about it too, isn't it? . . . We always start from Fountain Square. . . . and I mean the fountain. . . . we walk all around it looking it over carefully to be sure it's the same. . . . that no one has disturbed it or changed it in any way. . . . Davey sits on the stone bench while Charlie and I make this unsolicited inspection for the city fathers. . . . for your information, the main swan, (if it is a swan) at the very top isn't spouting his usual thin stream this summer. . . . the other birds are doing their bit as always. . . . from here we saunter about looking in our favorite shop window. . . . eventually we end up in Cooley's Cupboard. . . . not where the booths are, but back in the lovely East room. . . . we've tried all the other tearooms and hotels but Cooley's remains our favorite.

After lunch we shopped at the Hub for Davey's school clothes. . . . I don't know who got a bigger thrill out of this, Charlie or I. . . . Davey was bored to death. . . . we had to take the advice of our nice saleslady because neither one of us has ever been around little boys here-to-fore and we really don't know what's proper for them to wear. . . . I thought as I sat there how much I wished that I'd draw more attention to what your boys wore, during their different growing periods. . . . Mary, old bean, we bought Davey his first real Eton suit. . . . it's navy blue wool with white shirts. . . . it was a blow to us when we discovered after buying the suit that the shirts did not come with it. . . . these are purchased separately and cost almost as much as his father's. . . . the saleslady showed them to us. . . . I was disappointed. . . . they didn't have the round collars that I remembered on Bobby's and Jack's but were in reality a miniature man's shirt with a tie. . . . "Oh no!" says I, very shocked. . . . "That's not what I want!" . . . I tried to explain about Bobby and Jack and how they had looked. . . . the saleslady looked pained but retained her composure and explained patiently that after all it was sixteen years later and that they no longer showed round collars. . . . she brought out ties exactly like Daddy's and showed us how they were worn with these shirts. . . . Davey showed his first interest in the whole proceedings and was enthralled with them. . . . Charlie and I were close to tears. . . . we tried to tell her that he wasn't five yet. . . . I wondered if he was expected to wear a Derby with this outfit to kindergarten? . . . finally in a soothing voice our patient lady said, "Maybe you'll like a summer Eton shirt. . . . she produced one with short sleeves and an open collar. . . . but even this collar had points like Daddy's shirts. . . . she explained again that this was all we could buy these days. . . . Charlie and I exchanged glances and gave each other the signal of defeat. . . . anyway Davey had already selected a brilliant red striped tie and was wearing it around his neck with his white wash sailor suit. . . . so we bought one summer shirt and one shirt with a tie. . . . we bought him his first pair of low shoes and longer socks that stay up on his legs instead of folding down over his shoes. . . . I think this ends Davey's babyhood. . . . it's a little sad isn't it? . . . Yesterday we "rested from our labors" but had another family party in the evening. . . . Aunt Rene, cousins Catherine, Art and baby Bruce came in from Villa Park. . . . today some friends of Charlie's are going to drive us out to Skokie Valley for lunch. . . . I'm hoping that I can persuade them to drive on out to Hill Top afterwards. . . . this will be our one opportunity to get out to see you. . . . when we come home tonight we're all going to the Ridge Inn for dinner. . . . we can walk there and wheel baby Charlotte in her carriage. . . . now isn't this a giddy round of social activities for me? . . . is it any wonder that I look forward to Charlie's visits?

One humorous touch I think you'll enjoy. . . . in order for me to go out this afternoon, Dave is coming home and taking the baby to the doctors office for her monthly check up and a whooping cough shot. . . . he's done this once before when I was unable to go. . . . it's very funny to watch him set out with her. . . . for some reason he's much more afraid of her than he ever was of the boys. . . . he handles her as if he thought she were some piece of fragile glass that might break in his hands. . . . he will not allow me to put anything on her but a shirt, diaper and nightgown. . . . no dresses, slips, socks or booties for him. . . . he won't even have a bonnet or sweater on her. . . . he simply wraps her in a large blanket and off they go. . . . he admits that he feels slightly uncomfortable when she sits waiting in the doctor's ante room. . . . the only man in a room full of women. . . . however, once he and the doctor are alone with her, I think he rather enjoys his unusual importance. . . . he comes home with all the instructions for the coming month carefully written out.

I must close now and get dressed. . . . I do hope we get to see you this afternoon. . . . my love to you all.

As always,
Eleanore.

It Happened Here

What musical note does the earth turning on its axis produce? In this day and age there are so many spinning and turning man-made gadgets, each with its own note hummed or droned through the long, hot day; the kitchen ventilator takes on after the electric fans and the refrigerator carries an obbligato in its corner; it would require a Deems Taylor to synchronize the utilities orchestra and perhaps he could do something about the teasing, flute like note of the electric power plant beyond the embankment; no one can do anything about the Diesel powered engines which set the dishes on the sidewalk to vibrate with their own aria. The music of earth is never dead, the poet says, but he was probably thinking of crickets and the Aeolian harp of the wind. We do not rate the moaning of the Diesel powered engine as music but then we are prejudiced in favor of the old locomotive whistle; heard in the dead of night, echoing and reaching beyond the woods, that whistle became an integral part of childhood's memories; other memories, equally nostalgic, are of the hand car propelled by overvalued workmen and clicking past the grade crossing while we waited solemnly for it to pass; the thrumming of the old, worm-eaten telegraph poles was music to us and a mystery as well. We thought that what we heard was a message being relayed over the wires. And of farm music there was the click-clack of the hand worked corn planter; any child who has sat on the planter working the contraption will never forget the experience and are there any old timers who remember the hand dropper which we took into the garden to replant the hills of corn that had been missed?

WALTHER LEAGUE Northern Illinois District

News items for this column should be mailed to Dorothy Machel, publicity chairman, 6027 W. Highland, Chicago.

Unless something drastic happens, the Zone Beacon Party will be held on Wednesday, August 19, at a beach in No Man's Land. The meeting place will be St. Andrews, Park Ridge, at 7:30 p. m. Betty promises plenty of eats and entertainment. However, she says that the Leaguers will have to provide their own transportation and bring along their own sticks for weenies. This beach party is going to be a combination weenie roast, bonfire, song-fest, and tall-story gathering. You know what that will mean: fun and more so. Helen Rowland of Park Ridge and Corporal Carl Sachtleben of Norwood Park were married by Rev. Zimmer of St. Paul's Thursday, July 23. At present, Carl is stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Surprise
Last Wednesday, July 29, the Arlington Society's Corn Roast at Thatchers Woods turned out to be a pork and bean banquet. Instead of popping, they went hiking.

Deep Into Texas
Corp. Freddy Ruthenbeck was transferred to an Officers' Training School in Texas. On his way down to that he-man land, he stopped off to see some of his friends. Reports are that he can really wear a uniform.

The Home Front
Ruth Gehrs, our Zone President, became the latest Leaguer to give a pint of blood to the Red Cross. Betty Kener, our Zone Recreation and Cultural Activities chairman, is going to donate a second pint of her blood late this month.

Two on a Furlough
Harvey Rohlfing, Zone Leadership Training chairman of last year, and Herb Behrens of Arlington, came home for a few days to show us how they look in a uniform. Too bad they couldn't stay longer.

Foiled Us
While all of us were debating whether the District Convention this fall should be held at the LaSalle or the Drake, the committee picked the Knickerbocker Hotel. Better start saving now. The banquet will be $2.75 per plate including tax and gratuity. Room rates and program sessions will be announced later.

Permanent Residence
Looks as if the Knickerbocker will be the home of our future District meetings. The International Officers' Conference and banquet to be held in connection with the Dedication Ceremony will also be held there September 18 and 19. The dedication ceremony itself will be held at our new Walther League headquarters, September 20.

Don't Forget
Make August 17 Northwest Suburban Zone Night at the Loop League meeting. We'll be waiting for you in the West Room of the Central YMCA.

Vacationing
Reverend Frick of St. Peter's, Arlington, is on his vacation. Last Sunday, August 2, Mr. Channing Miller, a Springfield Seminary student, conducted the English service at Arlington. Next Sunday, Mr. James Manz will deliver the sermon.

Away Out in Elmhurst
Can't seem to get away from the League. Kump bumping into Leaguers from all over at the Concordia Mutual Ins. Co. picnic last Sunday held in Elmhurst.

A Broad Hint
Many of our Zone Leaguers will not consider their summer a success till they receive an invitation reading, "You are invited to a watermelon splash. Bring your own melon. We'll furnish the napkins." So far, no invitations like that have been extended. But we're still hoping.

Auf Wiedersehen
Elmer Behrens of Arlington was given a Christian Farewell in St. Peter's church Sunday, July 26. He expects to leave for service shortly.

I'm Sorry
Last week I had in this column that Howard Hasz, Arlington Srs. social chairman, was from Palestine. He is really from Mt. Prospect. Here's hoping that his fan mail gets to the right address after this.

An Idea is Born
When Arlene isn't doing something, she's thinking up things to do. Of course, her latest thought has to do with the Northern Illinois District Leaguer. The idea will really be an experiment lasting for about two months or so. And you, the readers, will be the judges. Arlene has picked three zone reporters to submit news from their zone divided into three or four sections: Knowledge, Service, Administration, and Social. The twelve other zones in our district will submit their copy in the old form, i. e., zone news first and then, individual society news. Our zone news will be written in new form. I'm asking for help from all of you. Before August 10, please send all league news to me at 6827 W. Highland Ave., Chicago. Help make this experiment a success.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKinn

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE has for many years been one of the most esteemed figures in American journalism. Whether or not he put Emporia on the map, he certainly put the Emporia Gazette there, and for decades his paper has been famed far outside the borders of Kansas. Recently, he wrote a letter to newspaper editors throughout the country calling their attention to an article that appeared in the July 4th issue of the Saturday Evening Post. This article, called "Invisible Greenbacks," by Harry Scherman, was a lucid presentation of the necessity for buying War Bonds as a brake against inflation, and White felt that the more attention this article got and the more people did something about it, the better off we would be.

Well, you should see the batch of letters that White received from editors all over the country. It seems that just about every editor in the land knew Bill White and had things on his mind he wanted to tell him.

Two or three times a year, White gets to New York to take in a meeting of the Book-of-the-Month Club's editorial committee. He's been one of the Club's judges since that organization started back in 1926. When he can't get to New York, he sends long telegrams from Emporia, advising his colleagues of his candidates for the book-of-the-month. Incidentally, Bill White has a son who is pretty good as a journalist himself. Recently, young Bill White had a book selected by the Club for distribution in October, titled, "They Were Expendable," about which we'll be hearing a lot pretty soon.

Bill Senior never mentioned his son's book in his monthly telegram to the Club, but it's a safe bet that he's mighty proud of the boy's achievement. Here's the telegram sent to him in Emporia from the other three members of the Club's editorial board—Henry Seidel Canby, Dorothy Canfield and Christopher Morley:

IT'S OUR UNANIMOUS INTENTION TO CHOOSE THE BOOK YOU DID NOT MENTION. GOSH, BILL, HOW THAT BOY CAN WRITE! WE CHOSE THE BOOK BY W. L. WHITE.

When Mary Heaton Vorse, author of one of the best chronicles about Provincetown we've ever read, "Time and the Town," first caught sight of that picturesque village, she says she knew at once that it was her home. The townspeople were a bit slower, however, about acknowledging her. They are inclined to look down on those who are "off Cape" just as the natives of Nantucket consider everybody else in the world "off islanders." After Mrs. Vorse had lived thirty-five years in Provincetown, a neighbor of hers said, "We've gotten to think of you as one of us." It was said—and received—as a great compliment.

Quinine is a necessity in Africa, Ben Lucien Burman tells us in his interesting account of the Free French troops, "Miracle On the Congo." One of the first gestures of hospitality on the part of the men to whom he talked was to offer him a quinine tablet. "We call them bonbons here," one Frenchman told him.

We often wonder if the folks away back in and around Bensenville, Ill., remember that "Old Guy" that used to write about all the good deeds everybody did and try and keep out of print anything that was not a boost to the ones written about.

Well here at Aloha, Ore., (which is a town smaller than Bensenville was when I first landed there some twenty-two years ago) which is less than a quarter of a mile from our ranch, a Mr. Barker holds the same position with the Hillsboro Argus that I held with the Register.

He drops in almost every week for news of interest and has ever since he learned that I was in the game myself. Well this week the enclosed clipping regarding our place and our wonderful garden appeared and I am sending it on to you. Mr. Barker said at time of that visit "the folks back home would not believe you if you told them the whole truth about your place here."

Guy E. Sampson has a garden in deep black soil where vegetables of all kinds grow as rank and tall as exotic plants in a tropical jungle. He is a garden enthusiast. Everything he plants seems to burst out of the ground, spread around and mount up in prodigious fulfillment. Mr. Sampson is a retired railroad man and newspaper editor from Kickapoo, Wis., but says his "retirement" has been full of activity to meet the demands of his three-acre domain which he calls "Kickapoo Lodge."

I suppose you wonder what an old retired editor and railroad worker can do to help win the war and peace that, God willing, shall follow. Everybody out this way was asked to sign up for some kind of work this summer and fall to help save the crops and Mrs. Sampson and myself signed on the dotted line and offered to help pick cane fruit or bush berries. This week will find our assignment finished.

In the big berry field where we went to help we were the first ones to bring in the first flat of berries so our number was one. Some days we finish the field at noon and some days at 3 to 4 p. m. It has been a job but the folks back east know us and we are proud we can say we have worked every day but one and have made enough to purchase one $125 bond. So while helping to save the crops we have something to help buy planes and tanks with as well. Have been selling summer potatoes, beets, wax beans, cucumbers, summer squash, and berries from our own place as well. Don't know how prices are back there but we get 3c a pound for potatoes, 1c apiece for beets, 10c a lb. for wax beans and summer squash are about the same price.

Shortages bottleneck nation's war effort

Jeep jitsu for plant guards;

U. S. gold worthless in wartime

The Home Front

Warnings by WPB Chief Donald Nelson against excessive optimism — voiced in connection with his mid-1942 report that war materials production was tripling the 1941 rate — have been grimly underlined by quite a run of news of a definitely sobering kind coming from many salient along industrial front, as well as from world battle areas. The war production program in general gives signs of having "growing pains" as material "unbalances" show up. . . . despite the almost unbelievable record pace in shipbuilding, production has failed to keep pace with United Nations' losses by sinkings. . . . WPB canceled the Andrew Jackson Higgins project — the one that was going to build some 200 Liberty ships on the assembly-line plan in Louisiana — with the explanation that even if construction could be completed, there wouldn't be enough steel to keep it supplied. . . . the expansion program of the electric utility industry had to take a 40 per cent cut because of the acute, competing demands for steel for other uses. . . . Wright Aeronautical had to lay off a thousand men in each of three shifts for several days because lack of materials had caused failure of a supplier to deliver needed parts. . . . and the copper situation is exceedingly tight.

Patents 'victory'

Department store sales on a nationwide basis have settled into a fairly steady pace, at five per cent ahead of last year. That's in dollar volume. In volume of goods moved, this year is substantially behind the '41 level. . . . The Public Administration Clearing House reports that state gas tax collections for May dropped 9 per cent for the nation as a whole, and 14 per cent in the 17 eastern "rationed" states. In June the decline was much sharper, 23 per cent in the rationed states and 15 per cent in a 13-states region embracing 9 non-rationed states. . . . A Philadelphia is reported to have taken out a patent on the name "Victory" as applied to bicycles, hoping to collect a 5-cent royalty on every one of the 750,000 allowed to be made this year, which would mean a neat $37,500 — but the manufacturing companies just decided to do without the name rather than ante up that nickel per copy.

Jeep jitsu

It's obvious enough that the ultimate goal of virtually all sabotage plots is the crippling of units in the nation's vital war industries. Now it appears that Uncle Sam, in at least one case, has taken a leaf from the enemy's book in fitting a new weapon into the defense of war plants. The ancient Japanese art of jiu jitsu has been Americanized, streamlined and, in the case of guards at the Willys-Ovander plant, renamed "jeep jitsu" in tribute to the "rock-em-and-sock-em" scout cars being produced in that plant. Courses are under the direction of Dewey Mitchell, a former circus acrobat who studied the arm-twisting art in Japan and who also instructs army officers. Skill in jeep jitsu is especially valuable because it enables many older men to fill jobs that otherwise would require more youth and muscle.

Troop trains

More evidence of the demands that war — even war in the old world — makes upon cross-country travel facilities here in North America is seen in the report of George A. Kelly, vice-president of the Pullman company, that troop movements handled by the company in June hit an all-time high, while civilian travel, now running 30 per cent ahead of last year, reached this year's peak in that same month. The number of soldiers, sailors and marines transported in "organized movements" in June totaled 565,200 — and the total for the first six months was more than 3,000,000, he reported, explaining that those figures did not include men of the armed forces traveling alone on furloughs, or inductees reporting to camps. The June increase in troop movements over the average for the preceding five months amounted to 11 per cent.

Cactus sugar

Things to watch for — new type freight cars with fibre-board sides instead of steel — being tested by Canadian Pacific. . . . A bicycle "hitch" for autos that lets the bike roll along behind, like a dory towed by a launch. . . . "Recipe Digest," a new quarterly published by the publishers of Parents' Magazine, and put out in loose-leaf form. . . . Eberhard Faber protests that no war-caused name change has been necessary so far as its "Mongol" pencil is concerned — it was the Eagle pencil company which made the change in product name we reported, from "Mikado" to "Mirado". . . . Among strange things being considered by U. S. Department of Agriculture are: cactus plants as a source of granulated sugar, orange pulp as a source of gunpowder, and milkweed fibre for use as mattress stuffing. . . . Pocket flashlights with strictly non-metallic barrels — of five ply fibre. . . . A new coin bank, shaped like a bomb, and designed to hold $18.75, the price of a War Bond.

Wallpaper bombs

A footnote on the lengths to which American industries have gone in converting themselves from civilian to war goods production is seen in news that the incendiary bombs dropped on Tokyo and other Japanese cities by the General Doolittle expedition were made by a company whose pre-war business was the manufacture of wallpaper. . . . And a candy maker is now turning out shoe polish for the armed services, having discovered that his equipment for grinding and mixing is just as efficient in turning out the polish as it was on fudge and fondants.

Dies libel suit

Some interesting questions arise as a result of a request addressed to the Accounts Committee of the House of Representatives by Representative Martin Dies of Texas, chairman of the so-called Dies committee, for approval of an item of $611.00 which was required to settle out of court two libel suits which had been filed against Mr. Dies as a result of the activities of his committee. It appears that the committee charged a man by the name of David Vaughan with membership in a Communist front organization when in fact it was an entirely different Mr. Vaughan whom the committee had in mind. The Mr. Vaughan, who was named, thereupon filed suit against Mr. Dies for libel. Mr. Dies made a public retraction and apology and agreed to pay the attorney fees and court costs amounting to $611. Oddly enough the question of whether or not the Public Treasury through Congressional action is liable for these costs has never been raised and it becomes necessary to fix some policy as a result of this incident, which will serve as a formula and precedent for similar cases that may arise in the future. It also raises the question of whether or not a judgment obtained by a citizen against a member of the House or Senate as a result of official conduct in connection with the work of a committee would be payable out of the Federal Treasury.

New tax bill

The Revenue Act of 1942 which passed the House on Monday, July 20, is the fifteenth tax bill that has been considered since 1933. Total Federal tax collections under existing law will reach about 18 billion dollars. The present bill provides an additional 6 billion making a total of 24 billion to be raised in taxes beginning with the calendar year 1942. During the First World War total tax collections reached 6 billion. Present taxes will, therefore, be 400 per cent greater than during the first conflict 25 years ago. Total state and local taxes are estimated at 9 billion. The public is, therefore, called upon to meet a total Federal, state and local tax load of 33 billion. This is about 30 per cent of the total national income. Expenditures for 1942 will total about 73 billion. Total taxes will be about 50 billion short of meeting that expenditure and will have to be borrowed in the form of war bonds and regular obligations of the Federal government. In a brief way the additional 6 billion provided for in the new bill is divided as follows: Corporation taxes 2½ billion, individual income taxes 2.9 billion, liquor taxes 340 million, tobacco taxes 87 million, manufacturers' excise or sales taxes 12 million, miscellaneous excise taxes 379 million.

Manpower

Gradually the war effort is not only dislocating the manpower structure of the country but redistributing it in such a fashion as to require considerable readjustment to the new manpower set-up. The number of men in the army jumped from 400,000 in 1940 to an estimated 6,000,000 in 1942. The number of persons engaged in war work increased from 1½ million in 1940 to an estimated 18 million in 1942. The number of farm workers will have increased from 10½ million in 1940 to 12 million in 1942. The number of non-farm workers not engaged in war production will have decreased from 33 million in 1940 to 26 million in 1942. The number of unemployed will have decreased from 5 million in 1940 to 1½ million in 1942. The total manpower force will have increased from 59.4 million in 1940 to 63.5 million in 1942. This total means that every available man and millions of available women will be a part of the nation's working force in 1942.

Tax figures

The new tax of $6.00 per proof gallon on liquor will mean that Uncle Sam will receive 75c on every pint. The $7.00 tax on 31 gallons of beer will give Uncle Sam 22½¢ a gallon. He will also get 7c on every package of cigarettes which is sold. On a long distance call costing $1.00 Uncle Sam will get 20c. On a local telephone bill of $5.00 per month Uncle Sam will get 50c. On a $10 camera he will get $2.50. On a $10 railroad ticket he will get $1.00. On small machines and gaming devices he will get $50 per machine. On a 60c telegram he will get 9c. These are typical of the tax increases in the Revenue Act of 1942.

Worthless gold

One by one metals have been drafted for war until this last week with the restriction on use of foreign silver, only gold — ironically — remains as metal worthless for the job of war production. . . . Buses are now carrying 50 per cent more passengers than formerly. The August bicycle quota for Illinois is 6,314.

Forced savings

"Britain has had forced savings for over a year," says Business Week. "Canada just broke down and put it in the new budget. We are going to have it soon. It's a question when and what sort. Several agencies are already working quietly on blueprints."

ribble mien, which might cost them votes next November. However, the bulk of economists seem to be convinced that, whether for good or ill, some type of forced savings will eventually have to be adopted.

Arguments for forced savings are obvious. Increased amount of money in the average man's pocket, decreased amount of goods offered for purchase, and the resultant inflation tendencies. Economists believe that taxes are insufficient. Congress believes that taxes have reached a near-limit.

In England, the forced savings plan seems to have worked reasonably well. Under it, tax rates are hiked to the hilt — but part of what the Englishman pays will be returned to him after the war. In other words, he simply builds up an credit with the Government, which will be repaid once the guns stop firing. It is likely that if and when forced savings is adopted here, we will follow the English plan in essentials.

There are other possible methods. For example, Congress could pass a law making it obligatory for everyone to put ten per cent of his savings in War Bonds. Then, to further encourage savings, deductions would be allowed for private savings in making income tax returns.

There is still another argument which the forced savings advocates use persuasively. When the war ends, war production will naturally end — and there is going to be a difficult period while we make the adjustment from a war economy to a peace economy. If people have money saved, the argument runs, this adjustment will be eased. To quote Business Week again, it would "act as a kind of automatic unemployment insurance."

Apples up 50%

The Office of Price Administration last week announced that where foods are not under OPA control, prices have risen sharply during the past few months. Lamb, uncontrolled, went up more than 10 per cent between mid-May and mid-June. Apples went up 25 per cent and now sell at prices 50 per cent above those of last March. On the other hand, beef, veal and pork, which are controlled, fell off in price and other controlled foods remained steady or dropped.

Milk ceiling

The Office of Solid Fuels Coordinator reported bituminous coal stocks in storage in the U. S. increased an estimated 5,850,000 tons in June, to a near-all-time record. The office said consumer stockpiles, however, continued insufficient to provide adequate protection against possible shortages during the fall and winter.

The OPA established a wholesale ceiling price on milk and cream, sold in bottles or paper containers, at the distributor's highest March level. The action was taken to prevent a price "squeeze" on milk retailers by some milk distributors. The office set a ceiling price of four cents a pound for waste kitchen fats now being sold by housewives in the salvage program, and a ceiling price of five cents a pound for the sale of the same fats from meat dealers to renders.

Price Administrator Henderson established a 60-day temporary ceiling on wholesale and retail lamb prices, effective August 10, at the highest levels charged by each seller during the period July 27-31, major meat item except poultry under Government price regulations.

Bond sales

July sales of War Bonds totaled $900,900,000.00, second highest monthly amount on record and $150 million above June sales. The highest monthly total was that of January when the amount was $1,060 million. August quota has been placed at $815 million.

The Office of Defense Transportation took allocation of all new buses and froze all integral-type buses in the hands of manufacturers. Under the new plan, the ODT will grant permission to buy new sign an agreement giving ODT authority to transfer the buses for use elsewhere if transportation difficulties develop.

Farm income

During the first half of 1942 cash income from farm marketings totaled $5,773 million compared with $4,012 million in the same period last year, the Agriculture Department reported. Income from crops was up 36 per cent and income from livestock and livestock products was 48 per cent greater. The department said a record volume of marketings is expected in the latter half of 1942. Total cash income from farm marketings during 1942, including Government payments, probably will exceed $14,500 million, the report said.

Under rationing regulations persons owning more than one type of vehicle may dispose of their machines only to authorized dealers or to the Procurement Division of the Treasury, OPA said. The office ruled all new adult bicycles are subject to rationing "even though they may have been disassembled or altered or the parts changed."

Cut silk to kill corn worm

"The early worm gets the ear" might well be the warning to sweet corn growers these days, "unless you use one of three simple precautions to blit the corn ear worm," according to J. H. Bigger, entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History Survey.

One of the simple methods to protect roasting ears from worms is to clip off the silks with scissors after they are at least four days old. This just about ruins any chances for the adult corn ear worm moth to lay eggs.

A second way to blit the worms is to put a few drops of medicinal mineral oil into the tip of the roasting ear, being sure that the silks are at least four days old in this case, too.

A third way is to apply commercial corn earworm oil in the same manner, Bigger said.

Clean that snow and mud off overshoes now!

July may be a strange month in which to start looking for the children's galoshes, but if they have just been stuck out of sight somewhere, the chances are the youngsters are going to be just as short on rubber footwear as the family automobile is on tires.

That's the opinion of Miss Florence King, assistant professor of home economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, who thinks that many good rubber articles are losing their vitality from neglect. Rubber overshoes are just one of the many articles which should be stored in a cool, dark place when not in use, she said.

That goes for the rubber shoes that may be out in the front yard right now.

Rubbers, galoshes, or rubber boots, which too often are dumped by the nearest exit and left to dry out caked with mud, will last longer if they're cleaned up after use in the garden or field. Also, they respond to mending with rubber cement or adhesive tape and stretch their wearability much longer than the ordinary person would think.

Girdles, Garters
Clothing made with rubber thread, such as girdles, garters and suspenders, should be stretched as little as possible when wet. Mild soap and water are the best cleaning agents, but all the soap should be rinsed out. Drying is best done in a cool, well-ventilated spot but not in heat or sunlight.

Hot water bottles, ice packs and such articles should be dried thoroughly but slowly after each use, Miss King pointed out. In other words, rubber articles should be kept away from the radiator or the stove or sunlight.

For cleaning rubber sheets, rain coats, aprons or any rubber-coated material, the recommended method is to spread them flat on a table and scrub with a soft brush, soap and warm water. The article is then rinsed well and dried with a cloth or hung in a cool, airy place.

Garden hose should be drained well, rolled carefully without kinks and bends and kept off the ground. If the hose is worn at the faucet end, a section can be cut off and a new coupling put on.

New phosphate bulletin issued from university

Any debate about the relative merits of rock phosphate and super-phosphate can be settled on the fact that both forms can play important roles in meeting the phosphorus requirements of Illinois soils for production of maximum wartime yields, according to a new bulletin, No. 484, just released by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. It is entitled "The Problem of Phosphate Fertilizers" and was written by E. E. DeTurk, chief in soil fertility and soil analysis.

The new publication is a progress report of investigations carried on during the past several years at the Illinois station. It makes no attempt to set down hard-and-fast rules about the application of phosphate fertilizers. Rather it explains what seems to be the fundamental principles on which all sound practices in the use of these fertilizers must rest.

Not only the two phosphates themselves but also the soils of Illinois differ greatly in physical, chemical and other properties. These differences necessitate the application of the two forms in a different manner and their use in different situations. On some soils, rock phosphate is the more economical source of phosphorus for building up the productive capacity. On other soils and especially with certain crops, rock phosphate does not adequately reinforce the soil supply. In such cases super-phosphate is necessary in order to produce the best crop yields.

Copies of the publication may be obtained free from county farm advisers or the university.

Plenty of sugar for peaches

With the sugar situation relieved and prospects that the peach crop will be of excellent quality, there's no reason why a thrifty homemaker can't put up at least 16 quarts of peaches for each member of her family, suggests Miss Frances Cook, extension specialist in foods, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

This supply of peaches, canned or frozen, will carry the family through the winter, if a good many other varieties of fruit have also been preserved. If the supply of other fruits is a little short, more peaches will come in handy for winter time desserts or as breakfast fruit.

Canning peaches is so simple that even an amateur will have good results if she follows the rules. Miss Cook said. Underripe peaches are required. Underripe peaches do not have much flavor and are hard to can, while over-ripe peaches tend to lose their shape when canned.

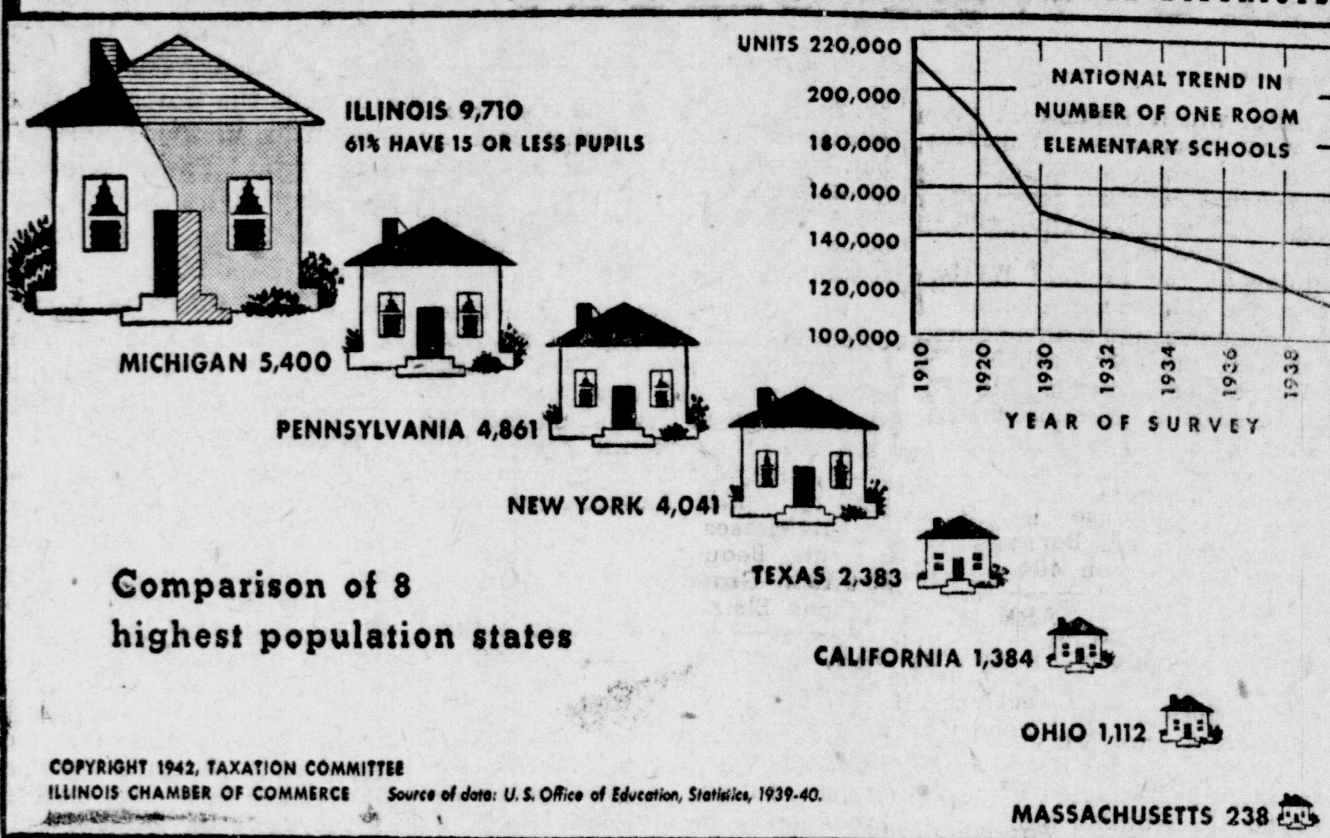

Canning Peaches
Plunge well washed peaches into boiling water to loosen the skins. Remove the fruit and plunge into cold water. Peel. Drop the peaches into a weak brine (1 tablespoon salt to 1 quart cold water) to prevent discoloration. Work with only a small amount of fruit at a time so the peaches do not have to stand in water.

To hot pack the fruit, simmer the peaches 2 to 5 minutes in thin to medium sirup (2/3 to 1 cup of sugar to 1 pint of water). Pack the peaches in containers. Cover with the boiling sirup and process the pint or quart jars for 30 minutes.

To cold pack the fruit, pack the peaches into glass jars. Cover with thin or medium boiling sirup. Process pint or quart jars for 30 minutes.

Freezing Peaches
Select ripe, sound fruit. Plunge the fruit into boiling water to loosen the skin; then into cold water. Peel. Keep peeled fruit under water until ready to package to prevent discoloration. Peel only enough fruit to fill a few packages at a time. Slice the peaches directly into the freezing container. Fill to within 1/2 inch of the top and cover immediately with a 40 to 65 per cent sugar sirup. A 50 per cent sirup is made by using 1 cup of sugar to 1 cup of water. Boil mixture to dissolve sugar and cool before using. Seal the package and send to the locker plant for freezing as soon as possible.

ILLINOIS LEADS THE NATION IN NUMBER OF ONE ROOM SCHOOL DISTRICTS

All-time liming record set in '41 by farmers

Setting an all-time record, Illinois farmers in 1941 spread more than 2 1/2 million tons of limestone to gear up another million acres of soil from only 50 to 100 per cent freedom.

The record of 2,675,000 tons for 1941 is about 300,000 tons more than the previous record year of 1940, it is pointed out by C. M. Linsley, soils specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The tonnage of limestone used last year would probably have been considerably greater if wet weather had not prevented many farmers from spreading their limestone, Linsley said.

A total of about 6 million acres of acid land has been limed in Illinois since the first experiments with limestone were started at the college's experiment fields in 1903. On this 6 million acres of land, farmers are growing about 2 million acres of red clover, sweet clover and alfalfa for feed and soil improvement.

Further progress in establishing the Illinois system of permanent soil fertility on farms throughout the state is predicted for 1942. In the 1942 program of the extension service, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, the AAA, SCS, FSA, FCA, TVA, Illinois Agricultural Association, Illinois Farmer's Institute, and vocational agriculture teachers all are united with extension service forces and county farm advisers in the furtherance of recommended practices. These include soil testing; applying needed lime, phosphate and potash; growing adequate acreages of legumes; controlling erosion and conserving water, and using crops best adapted to the land.

MEET A SUGARLESS CAKE

Here it is . . . a cake made without even a teaspoon of sugar in it. Yet a real cake never-the-less. No, I will not say it is just as good as a cake made with sugar. But if you make it, I'm sure you'll agree that it is the best sugarless cake you've ever tasted . . . and a lot better than you'd expect. We worked a long time to perfect it . . . and we're confident that it is absolutely the best one can do without using any sugar at all. So if you're jealously guarding every bit of sugar you can possibly obtain for canning — then you'll more than welcome this cake.

SUGARLESS TWO EGG CAKE
1/2 cup shortening (part butter for flavor)
1 tsp. flavoring
1 1/2 cups white corn syrup
2 1/4 cup SIFTED cake flour
2 1/2 tsp. 2 1/4 or 3 1/4 tsp. Baking Powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 large eggs
1/2 cup milk
2 tsp. orange rind with 1/2 tsp. lemon extract is delicious.
 Smallest amount for double-action; medium amount for phosphate; and largest amount for tartarate.

Cream shortening just until no longer hard. Blend in flavoring. Very gradually and thoroughly beat in syrup . . . to form a fluffy creamed mixture. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; and stir one-fourth of these sifted dry ingredients into the creamed mixture. Gradually beat in the egg yolks which have been beaten until thick. Stir in remaining dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Quickly and gently fold in stiffly beaten egg whites (beaten just before adding). Pour into 2 well greased and floured 8-inch round layer pans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

Sugarless Icing — Take Your Choice

Any of the following sugarless icings can be used successfully on this cake.

ROCKY ROAD ICING for an 8" square cake.
Cut 6 marshmallows into very small pieces (each about 16) directly onto the top of a warm cake. Sprinkle 1/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts over them (distributing evenly). Melt 1/4 lb. sweet chocolate over water . . . not hot . . . water, being sure that the chocolate does not become more than lukewarm. (The melting will take about 30 min.) Pour the melted chocolate over the marshmallow-nut mixture and spread with a spatula.

BROILED HONEY ICING for an 8" square or 9" round cake.
Mix together 2 tbsp. butter, 3 tbsp. honey, 1 tsp. milk, 1/2 cup coconut, and dash of salt. Spread on cake while cake is still warm. Place low under broiler with heat turned low. Broil until it bubbles and becomes brown but does not burn.

DRIPED FRUIT ICING for a 2-layer 8" cake or 8" by 12" cake.
Put 1/4 lb. or 1/2 cup each of dates, figs or raisins, and nuts together through fine knife of food chopper. Mix with 3 tbsp. lemon juice and enough hot water to make icing easy to spread (about 6 tsp.). A very concentrated icing . . . so use only a thin layer on cake.

HONEY ICING for a 2-layer 9" cake.
Heat 1 cup honey to a rolling boil and continue boiling 1 minute (238° F.). (The honey thins somewhat.) Pour slowly in a thin stream into 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Continue beating until icing is fluffy and will hold its shape.

SHINY CHOCOLATE ICING for an 8" square cake. Double this for a layer cake.
Put 18 marshmallows (6 oz.) cut into quarters, 2 sq. unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.) and 3 tbsp. top milk together in a saucepan over low heat. Stir constantly until chocolate and marshmallows are melted and well blended. Let cool until thick and fudgy. Spread in a thin coating on cooled cake and let set an hour or two before serving (to ease cutting).

CONDENSED MILK CHOCOLATE FROSTING for a 2-layer 8" or 9" cake.
Melt 2 sq. unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.) over hot water. Stir in 1 can sweetened condensed milk (15 oz.) and a few grains of salt. Continue cooking over boiling water until thick (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat. Stir in 1/2 tsp. vanilla and 1 tsp. hot water. Cool slightly before spreading on cooled cake. (Thin with a little hot water, if necessary).

Farm boys work for $500 prize

Five Cook county farm youngsters are this summer completing a course of study which gives them a chance to learn more about ways of marketing Illinois farm produce profitably and at the same time to win cash scholarships, the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association reported this week. They are: Wallace Decker, Arlington Heights; Robert Lagerhausen, Bensenville; Robert Long, Glenview and Rollin Busse and Albert Eichholz, both of Des Plaines.

They are competing for a $500 grand national prize as well as for a $250 regional award and 11 individual prizes of $100 each allotted to the Central area from a $5,000 scholarship fund established by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company for the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association, the association announced.

Professor Grant B. Snyder of Massachusetts State College, the association's advisory chairman, explained that "The participants will complete a five-unit extension course in farm marketing intended to help show farm youngsters why they must pay just as much attention to marketing as to production if they are to be successful farmers."

Final awards will be announced at the annual convention of the association to be held this fall. Cash awards may be used to help defray agricultural college expenses or to purchase farm equipment.

Winter vegetable storage subject of new circular

Although most vegetables aren't winter-stored until almost winter, it's time now to plan for storage spaces for food-for-freedom.

A big help to many families in storing vegetables for winter use this year will be a new circular, No. 530, on "Winter Vegetable Storage," which has just been issued by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. B. L. Weaver, associate in vegetable crops, is the author.

Unheated basements, because they are usually damp and cool, are often ideal storage places for root crops, potatoes and leafy vegetables. Storage in heated basements is practical, cheap, convenient and usually satisfactory if a cool, well-ventilated store room 6 by 6 feet or larger is partitioned off from a corner of a basement. Other satisfactory storage spaces are garages, outdoor pits, sunken barrels, outdoor underground cellars and above ground store rooms.

Copies of the publication may be obtained free from farm and home advisers or university.

Whirly defeated in racing final

The great Arlington Park race meeting came to a glorious close Saturday despite the weather when over 30,000 race fans turned out to see the world's champion Whirlyway run and to bet over $975,000 on their favorites.

The mighty Whirlyway met the fate of so many other outstanding favorites on the Arlington track when he was defeated by the Irish bred cold, Rounders, who was carrying only 103 pounds, compared to the 130 that the champion was asked to carry around the muddy track.

In the big race Whirlyway, as usual, was last going around the club house turn, but when they straightened out for the run down the back stretch, Rounders on Whirlyway, made his bid, to the astonishment of the big crowd who had expected to see "Whirly" make his move on the last bend.

In a few mighty jumps the champion had passed everything but Rounders, but Rounders refused to quit and as they came around the final turn and into the stretch, the champion could not quite get up to the flying leader.

As they came down the stretch Rounders drew away and the mighty Whirlyway met the fate of so many other odds on favorites in big races who have succumbed to the jinx that seems to haunt great horses on the Arlington track.

The big crowd which turned out to see a tribute to a great horse and the fact that he was booted by some poor sports as he came back from the judges stand, was more than offset by the applause for a game horse and a game owner and trainer who would run their horse under the conditions that prevailed.

The closing day brought to a finish one of the greatest race meetings ever held at Arlington Park, at which the best of horses and the best of riders have been seen in action during the meeting.

The management of Arlington Park are to be congratulated upon the fine meeting and the support which they gave to the army and navy relief by contributing their entire profits of their big day, July 4, to the service relief agencies.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of bonds and stamps were also sold during the meeting at booths in the club house and grandstand.

Red Wings drop close one to Camp Grant

The Red Wings lost a tough one to the Camp Grant boys by a close score of 4-3 at Recreation Park.

The game was played on a wet field but was a good game in spite of weather conditions.

The soldiers got off to a two run lead by bunting three hits off J. Skurski, manager and center fielder of the first inning. The local boys played a fine game and we are sure they could trim the Camp Grant boys should they meet again.

Camp Grant started Bernardi on the mound. He is the property of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. Wrona, their catcher, was with Minneapolis in the American association.

Next Sunday the Red Wings play Kenosha. Thanks to all the loyal fans who braved the elements to witness last Saturday's game.

Remember next Sunday, Aug. 9, is Ray "Farmer" Willert day. Give him a rousing reception.

Sunday's game was rained out, but Glenview will be here again Aug. 16.

IT'S THE LAW

CLEVELAND WAS RIGHT

Any mention of the name of Grover Cleveland invariably recalls his famous declaration that public office is a public trust.

The truth of his assertion is so plain it seems strange that it took so long to be recognized. And what Cleveland said can be restated to cover another but related matter, namely, that public business is likewise a public trust.

In the Twentieth Century the public business has reached enormous proportions. In one way or another it probably touches most activities. It involves tremendous sums of money. In its manifold forms vast amounts of property, equipment, supplies, facilities and services have been acquired. More than ever before this very growth has made a complete and regular accounting to the public imperative.

The laws of the various states make many provisions for the periodic publication of such reports for the full and proper information of the public that foots the bills. In many cases, as they should be, such reports are mandatory. This is good business and makes for good citizenship.

When individual citizens or newspapers, as taxpayers, insist upon official compliance with such laws, especially where they relate to financial reports, they do so as a matter of principle and of public service. As a public trust the public business today merits more than ever a full and regular accounting in published reports, especially in the newspapers as the law often provides.

CYO may tie with two more victories

Benj. - CYO tilt holds key

The battle for a berth in the softball league play-offs continued last week, although rain forced postponement of two important games. Three teams are still very much in the running, with Mt. Prospect holding the best position. Whoever comes out on top will meet Gaare, first-round winner, in a three-game tie series.

Having completed their schedule Mt. Prospect can do no worse than tie for first place. CYO is the only contender for the boys from Mount Prospect and must beat Benjamin this Wednesday night in order to remain in that category. In case CYO wins Wednesday, play-off of a postponed tilt with Gaare Sunday evening will be necessary.

Mt. Prospect 7, CYO 5

Mt. Prospect kept their slate clean and handed CYO its first defeat last Wednesday. The score was 7-5 in a close game. Two home runs by Dick Busse and one by Ralph Wille provided enough margin to win. CYO had some good hitting, but left ten men stranded on the bases.

Dick Busse pitched the first two innings for Mt. Prospect, allowing four hits and one run. Angelo Calanca finished, giving five walks, five hits, and four runs. Jim Millay pitched the entire game for CYO, allowing seven runs on twelve hits and three walks.

Taylor, Millay, and Mayerck hit doubles and Fimbach tripled for CYO. Ross and Ralph Wille doubled for Mt. Prospect, in addition to the home runs.

Gaare 11, Mt. Pros. 6

There was excitement galore on Friday night as Gaare handed Mt. Prospect its only defeat of the second round. An umpire who had never officiated in the league before arrived to work the game but failed to secure the ball and scoreboard from league headquarters at Rudy Stein's sweet shop. After repeated urging and explanation by both acting managers he finally secured the equipment, with the game getting under way half an hour late.

Gaare took a three-run lead in the first two innings. Tossman doubled with Bublitz and Garm on board. He was called out in a bitterly protested decision, when the third base, which was loosely staked down, bounced away from his slide. Schultz ended the inning with a fly ball. Schwolow, in the second, drove in Wiese who had survived on Laurence's poor throw. Three batters failed to bring Schwolow home.

In fact Al Hedke had settled down for some air tight pitching. He retired eleven men in order and left allowed only one man in the next sixteen to get on base.

Mt. Prospect Scores Six

Meanwhile Mt. Prospect took advantage of some golden opportunities to score six runs in the third, all after two were out. The climax came with two runs home and the bases loaded. A Laurence lifted a long fly ball to right field which just eluded Schwolow for a home run. That was all for Mt. Prospect and it looked like enough.

Dusk was almost at hand when Tossman singled to open the seventh. It was close after Schultz walked. When Wiese singled to load the bases, dusk was settling across the field. When Schwolow blasted home four runs with a four-base swat, it was totally dark where Mt. Prospect fielders played. But to the umpire and Gaare's it will still broad daylight.

Mt. Prospect had difficulty getting the ball into play after each throw or pitch. Gaare players protested against stalling and Mt. Prospect players demanded that the game be called because of darkness. Gaare's finally scored four more runs before the third out was made.

Gaare Retired

Gaare took the field and things became brighter immediately. Fred Kehe wert far down the right field line to take Ralph Wille's fly ball on a spectacular play. Bublitz scooped up Ross' hot grounder at short and fired to Wiese for the second out. A Laurence hit a liner into left center for a triple. Mel Garm, Gaare catcher, then took Calanca's pop fly in front of the plate for the third-out as "Augie" accidentally bumped into him.

The umpire went back to Rudy's with the ball and took and darkness settled down on the field.

Rain cancels polo tilt; to play Sunday

After running off five games in as many week-ends, the polo players had to capitulate to the weather man last Sunday.

The result was postponement of the contest between Salt Creek and Woodland, due to heavy pregame rains that made the field at River road and Devon avenue too heavy and treacherous for play.

The same two teams were immediately re-scheduled to clash next Sunday afternoon (Aug. 9) at 2:30 o'clock, with the lineup showing no changes.

Salt Creek will take the field with Rudy Masiek, captain, at No. 1, Roger Drije and Allan Robb at No. 2, John (Bud) McAlpine and Jerry Freud at No. 3, and Jerry Fordon at defense.

Opposing this combination for Woodland will be Julius Lencione and Bobby Bond at No. 1, Elmer Kirsch, Milwaukee star, at No. 2; Verne Adrian at No. 3, and W. J. (Smitty) Schmidt, captain at back.

The winner of Sunday's match will remain in the Tri-state invitational polo tourney and the loser will be eliminated. A thriller rivaling that two weeks ago, when Park Ridge edged out Joy Farm of Milwaukee 9 to 8, in the final minute of play, is expected.

SHORT PUTTS

Short putts from the 38th annual Chicago amateur at Jackson Park: Already 100 hopefuls have swarmed around the registration table at 7:30 a. m., anxious to fire away. . . . Tournament chairman Cunningham leans over in his high perch to tell us that there are sufficient indications of a record entry — 150 filed advance entries. . . . Local entries include Ray Chamberlin of Palatine, 1938 Public Links king, 4th spot holder in this year's Paddock Publications "Amateur." . . . Entered also are Joseph B. White, Jr., of Itasca, George Kouzmanoff, Bensenville, Ernie Simmons of Arlington Heights, and of all people, your correspondent. . . . At 9:31 we hear our name called, and so we leave the tumultuous clubhouse scene, temporarily at least. . . . At the 4th, we spot a big gallery of over 1,000 following Moe Springer. Reports are that he's 5 under at the 14th. Jackson Park's par is 70. . . . Engulfed by a throng equally as large, coming down the 17th fairway, is Sgt. Frank McNamara, widely faced Chicago policeman. "Mac" is 4 under par. . . . At the 18th, your writer is 1 under, himself 5th, under 5's. . . . Thousands of spectators. Dozens of them at every green and tee. . . . A woman scorer at every green, as well as a tournament marshal. . . . Friend "Jody" White went out in 38, back in 36, for a qualifying 74. Coming up to the 18th we are convinced that this is the toughest 5580 yard layout we have ever seen or played on. Narrow fairways, well-trapped greens, plenty of woods and bushes have kept the nation's pros from bettering the course record of 65. . . . Your correspondent's total by no means endangered this figure. . . . Our card has been posted and our tourney obligations are over. . . . Plainly visible on the big score board are McNamara's 66 and Springer's 67. . . . A hot dog and a bottle of pop, a change of togger, and our first Chicago Amateur has become pleasant history.
